Beth Prykryl – Biography

Beth Prykryl is a sixth generation Texan and a passionate advocate for Texas values, including Public Education. Beth remembers being a child and hearing other kids share their family heritage. She asked her dad, “Dad, what are we?” To which he boldly replied, “We are TEXANS!” As a child this answer did little to quell the curiosity of an eager little girl. But as an adult it brings great joy to Beth who still celebrates her Texas heritage to this day.

Although she crossed the Red River for a few years and obtained her Juris Doctor from the University of Oklahoma College of Law, Beth is thrilled to be raising her family in Texas. As a practicing oil and gas attorney of 15 years, Beth enjoys the challenges of energizing Texas with Texas energy. She has been married for 17 years to her husband and police officer, [REDACTED]. Together they raise their two children, [REDACTED] & [REDACTED], in New Caney ISD where Beth is proud to have served 6 years on the Board of Trustees.
